

ONE DARR

Is the Perfect
SYMBOL OF ABSOLUTE PURITY.

If purity is poetic, and cleanliness is next to godliness, "One Darr" Soap cannot be prosaic, for of all soaps known for laundry and general use it is the finest; made from refined vegetable oils, and only the purest and best materials being used in its manufacture.

Its color, pure white, shows it is free from the unnatural colorings so generally used in soaps. Hence it is preferred for the bath, the toilet and the nursery. It has all the healing qualities of the finest castile soap, therefore it is desirable for the use of sufferers from skin diseases caused by impure coloring matter in soaps or impurity of the blood. The absolute purity of the materials used in "One Darr" has the effect of leaving the skin in a soft, smooth and natural condition.

Fine laces, gloves, silk underwear, and all articles of delicate color and texture it cleanses quickly, easily and SAFELY.

It is the most beautifully modelled cake known to the trade, fits the hand perfectly, is the most economical soap in the market for all household uses, and $500 IN GOOD SOLID CASH GOES WITH IT.

For exclusive laundry use, your "Anchor" brand is excelled by none, and is already widely and favorably known. The wrappers of both "One Darr" and "Anchor" will be accepted in the competition for prizes. We shall tell you

All About That $500.

ARSENIC IN THE BRAIN.

Evidence That Thomas Brennan Was Poisoned Before He Died.

HOLYoke, July 4, 1889. Prof. Mayer of Springfield is the brain when the analysis of the body of Thomas Brennan of this city, who, it is alleged, was poisoned by his mother, now under arrest. He has found large quantities of arsenic in the brain, and the analysis of the fluid in the stomach, and this would show that the poison was administered before the man died. A hearing will be given to this testimony as highly important.

ABSOLUTELY CORRECT REPORT

What the President Said About Rights of Colored Men.

The Southern White Protectionists Told the Herald Correspondent the Story After Leaving the White House—Censured Districts in New England—Docketing Tails of Horses.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE BOSTON HERALD.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 4, 1889. The moral obligation, which characterizes the present administration is somewhat prosaically revealed in a communication from Ellens, an editorial in the Boston colored man, (an editorial) to be false certain statements reported by your correspondent as having been made by President Harrison to a delegation of Southern white Protectionists, who called on the President yesterday.

The dispatch to the HERALD was an absolutely faithful, accurate report of what the Southern delegation, after coming away from the White House, said that Mr. Harrison had said to them. They could hardly have invented the language which they attributed to the President. They were well satisfied with his remarks, and in view of their testimony the denial by Mr. Harrison of the statements is a very serious matter.

It is worth noting that the Southern white Protectionists, who called on the President yesterday, were a delegation of Southern white Protectionists, who called on the President yesterday.

ARRANGING THE CENSUS WORK.

How Supt. Porter Has Divided New England Into Districts.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE BOSTON HERALD.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 4, 1889. The superintendent of the census has divided New England into census districts for the purpose of the census.

Maine—Two districts, the line running east of Somerset, Kennebec and Sagadahoc counties; population in 1880, 299,808.

New Hampshire—One district, population in 1880, 348,991.

Vermont—One district, population in 1880, 332,286.

Massachusetts—One district, population in 1880, 1,783,088; in 1885, 1,942,141.

Rhode Island—One district, population in 1880, 126,821.

Connecticut—Two districts, the line running east of the Connecticut river, population in 1880, 623,700.

The estimated increase in population for the census is about 30 per cent. A supervisor will be appointed for each district, and he will be required to act as a supervisor in 1880 being preferred. Each supervisor of the census will be required to act as a supervisor in 1880 being preferred.
